Evolution is Unscientific

"The theory of evolution by cumulative natural selection is the only theory we know of that is in principle capable of explaining the existence of organized complexity."
Richard Dawkins, famous Atheist

Biology studies organisms. It can also explain how organisms got that way, but studying organisms does not require explaining how they got that way, and the theory of evolution is bad science.

Evolutionists cannot demonstrate that three critical points are even possible, let alone that they actually happened:

(1) No one has demonstrated that life can be created from non-life[1].

(2) No one has demonstrated that a new "sexual species" can be created. (Since the definition of species is contested, for these purposes "sexual species" is defined as an organism that can breed with its own kind and produce fertile offspring, but cannot breed with its ancestors.)[2]

(3) Evolutionists theorize the human brain evolved from lower forms. Over 50 years into the age of computers, machines can crunch numbers far better and faster than humans, recognize and use language and tools, and beat us in chess. Yet science has yet to build even a rudimentary computer that can contemplate its own existence[3], the hallmark of the human brain. And no animal, no matter how "intelligent", can do this either.

[1] Reports of artificial DNA do not alter this fact. Life is still required.

[2] Evolution was the main story in the November 2004 edition of National Geographic magazine. But all it could say about science creating a new species was "Rice and Salt seem to have recorded a speciation event, or very nearly so, in their extended experiment on fruit flies." (emphasis added) Be assured that if science had produced a new species, you would hear about it!

[3] Contemplating your existence is best understood as imagining what will remain after your death.

Ask anyone who espouses evolution if these 3 points are not true[4].

If evolution is unscientific, why teach it? Because no Creator means no God. In other words, evolution taught without a possible alternative[5] is Atheism[6].

Now Atheism rests on an article of faith, i.e. a strong belief that cannot be proven but is nonetheless believed. Therefore Atheism is a religion[7].

And it is illegal to teach religion in the public schools.

(Understand, I am not defending creationism or intelligent design or a young earth. And evolution may even be correct, at least in part.

But species evolution has not proven its case, and until and unless it does, saying it is the only explanation for this present life is Atheism. See the quote that introduces this piece.

Furthermore, the theory of evolution does a great harm to the scientific community. No other "scientific" theory is so widely accepted, while at the same time being based on such flimsy evidence.)

4 Again, if science ever does one of these three things, be assured you will hear about it.
5 And "Some believe…" is not sufficient. Some believe the Earth is flat!
6 Atheism is deliberately capitalized because it is a religion.
7 Of course Christianity is also a religion. By contrast, unitarianism, which does not hold to any belief, is not a religion.
